Bythwood wins seat easily

DAN BYTHWOOD chats with city attorney John E. Baker after learning of his victory Tuesday night. After the ballots were counted, Commissioner William Gear said he doesn't intend to run for office again.

New crime unit confiscates over $100,000

BELLE GLADE - A street crime unit organized by the Belle Glade Police Department in April is responsible for 127 arrests and over $100,000 in confiscated property and cash, according to local law enforcement officials.

The two-man team Saturday added another line to its list of accomplishments when one of its members arrested a local man on lottery charges and confiscated an automobile and over $9,000 in receipts.

According to Inspector Mike Miller, Police Chief D. Bill Mathis appointed Detectives Albert Dowdell and Michael Johnson to the special team in April. The street crime unit investigates all street crime ranging from drug trafficking and dealing in stolen property to conducting lotteries.

After the unit completes its investigation, the rest of the police department makes the arrests.

So far, the unit has been responsible for 127 arrests and the confiscation of six vehicles and $102,896 in stolen property, narcotics and lottery proceeds.

Saturday, Dowdell helped add the latest page to the unit's history when he arrested Charlie Willie Strowbridge, 58, of 224 SW Sixth Street number 27 in Belle Glade.

Dowdell said the department had received information that an individual was going to pick up lottery paraphernalia Saturday morning and would be back at the SW Sixth Street apartment by 8:30.

He said he started watching the apartment and observed Strowbridge leave. When Strowbridge came back at about 8:30, Dowdell said some one spoke to him as he was leaving the automobile. Strowbridge apparently looked toward Dowdell and walked away.

Dowdell said he approached Strowbridge and told him why he was there, and asked to search the vehicle.

Strowbridge refused and Dowdell read him his rights.

A search warrant was obtained and the automobile searched at the police station, where police discovered $9,168 in lottery receipts.

According to Miller, the confiscated property and money can be put into the law enforcement trust fund if it is legally confiscated by the courts.

BELLE GLADE - When the Belle Glade city commission meets again, one familiar face will be replaced with a face new to city government. Daniel Bythwood won his first term as West Borough Commissioner Tuesday, September 13 when he came up with 60 percent of the votes cast while his opponent, incumbent William A. Gear, collected only 40 percent.

Immediately after the tally was announced by Belle Glade City Clerk June H. Boglioli, Gear said he had no intentions to run for the commission again.

"No sir. This is it. You won't see me again," said the five-term commissioner.

"I appreciate all the people who helped out in my campaign," said Bythwood. "I'd also like to say I'm looking forward to working with the city commissioners of Belle Glade and with the people of Belle Glade. Thank you for the support and thank you to those who voted."

Bythwood garnered 867 votes while Gear mustered 579.

"Those things happen," said Gear. "You lose. We had the unfortunate situation where no one else ran in the race," said Gear, implying that a run-off may have helped him retain his seat.

It wasn't the first loss for Gear, although he said he intends it to be his last. He was defeated in a re-election bid in 1979 and returned to the commission in 1981 after edging Bythwood in a run-off by eight votes.

About 32.5 percent of the total registered voters in the city cast ballots in the election. Out of 4,590 registered voters, 1,490 voted.

Eleven absentee ballots were cast in the election, the first the city has seen since the 1981 contests.

Four of those went to Bythwood and six to Gear. One went to "none of the above."

It took almost two hours to count the ballots while a crowd that included the candidates and their families looked on.

The election results are supposed to be certified tonight at 8 by the city commission.

Zoning request prompts discussion with commission

By JEFF BROWN
BELLE GLADE - The proposed rezoning of two lots of land on the southern end of Southwest Second Street became a bone of contention between the Belle Glade city commission and several residents, but the proposal passed easily anyway. The two lots located at 663 and 667 Southwest Second Street are owned by John Michael Stevens, who requested the R1 single family dwelling zoning be changed to R2 to permit him to build an apartment building on the property.

Residents of Southwest Third Street whose homes are within 300 feet of the lots told the commission Monday night, September 12 that they opposed the proposal because they felt an apartment would be detrimental to the neighborhood.

One area resident said the apartment building would drop property values and added the commission had promised the zoning wouldn't be changed when it was first set up.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman said the commission should never have promised the zoning wouldn't change, adding that zoning is "in a constant state of change."

Another resident said the apartments already in the area are responsible for an increase in crime and litter in the area. He said that since the apartments already present were built, a car was stolen, one of his neighbors was robbed twice and another home was burglarized.

Altman said the assumption that apartment buildings cause crime is erroneous.

"If it followed that, apartment buildings translate into increased crime, then apartment buildings wouldn't be permitted anywhere," said Altman. "I don't think it's that simple. I don't think you think it's that simple."

"I'm only concerned about Southwest Third Street," said one resident. "I don't care what goes on in China or anywhere else. I only care about this place."

"Not everybody can afford single family homes. I don't see how you can object to the quality of building that is going in there," continued Altman, adding that he understood the residents' desires to protect the "integrity of single family zones. I don't think the objection outweighs the need for housing."

Another resident challenged the commissioners to walk through the area at 11 p.m.

"You walk through there then, then I'll agree with changing the zone."

Altman said he thought the need for decent housing in the area should take precedence over almost every other need in the city.

"I don't accept the premise that a fourplex adds to the crime rate," said Altman. "We must weigh the protection of a neighborhood and the concerns of these people and the right of a property owner to reasonably use his property."

"I think that anything you put in there of this value would be an asset to the neighborhood," said Commissioner Claude A. Tindall.

Goforth agreed that the proposed apartment could be an asset to the area. "I think you oughta look at the plans," he told the group of protesters. "Personally, I don't understand Freddy wanting to spend that kinda money down there."

Commissioner William A. Gear moved that the matter be tabled until the city administration and commissioners had an opportunity to re-examine the matter, but that motion failed to gain a second.

Tindall then moved the request to rezone be approved. Goforth seconded and in a roll call vote, only Gear voted against the proposal.

Mathis wants local courts

BELLE GLADE - Belle Glade Chief of Police D. Bill Mathis wants a local court of some sort re-established in Belle Glade and he's ready to approach a state constitutional commission over the matter.

Mathis took his concerns to the city commission Monday night, September 13 and talked the commissioners into passing a resolution supporting his views.

According to Mathis, a constitutional commission is considering changes to the state

Staying after when bar closes results in arrest of man

SOUTH BAY - Staying for just one more drink at a local bar may result in a South Bay resident ending up in stir.

According to South Bay Police Department reports, the 19-year-old man,

Henry Williams of 195 Northwest 10th Avenue in South Bay confessed over the weekend to burglary and grand theft charges in connection with his decision to conceal himself in the Green Front Bar at the same address early Saturday morning. Williams allegedly hid under the hands-tand in the establish-ment when it closed at about 2 a.m. Satur-day.

After the establish-ment was locked and everyone else gone, Williams apparently told police that he removed a screen from a bathroom window and passed about 36 bottles of liquor through the barred window to an associate identified only as "Nee."

Williams told police that he then began to drink and concealed several bottles of li- quor around the establishment for future thefts.

Near opening time, Williams said, he climbed under the bandstand and waited until the bar was re-opened.

The day barmaid opened the establish-ment at about 8 a.m. and was followed in by several other peo- ple. Shortly after open- ing, she noticed an individual she said hadn't entered the bar that morning. That individual was Williams who said he had entered with the rest of the group. When the barmaid noticed the burglary, she notified police and told them of Williams. Police spread the word that they wanted to see Williams and at about 10 a.m. Saturday he entered the station and confessed to the incident.

THE POINT CHOSEN BRIDGE on state road 717 is open again after undergoing repairs by the Florida Department of Transportation. Those wanting to travel to the marina and back or vice versa don't have to rely on ferries or shoe leather anymore.

Water rates going up soon

BELLE GLADE - Residents of Belle Glade will see a rate increase on their October water and mosquito bills.

The new minimum charges for a residence will be as follows:
Water: $6.76
Sewer: 14.85
Garbage and trash: 9.95
Mosquito: 1.00
Tax: .68
Total minimum bill: $33.24
The rates will be shown on the October bills. According to Frank Anderson, the city's finance director, the new residential charge for a three-quarter inch meter will be a minimum of $6.76 for the first 2,000 gallons and charge of $1.47 per 1,000 gallons or part over the minimum charge.

Mariel refugee is robbery suspect

BELLE GLADE - A Mariel boatlift refugee living in Pahokee has been arrested for the September 7 armed robbery of a service station office in Belle Glade.

According to Belle Glade Police Depart- ment, Fernando Pino, 38 of 725 1/2 East Main Street, Pahokee was charged with armed robbery and grand theft by the Belle Glade police after he was found in Pahokee driving an automobile that matched the description of the vehicle driven by the suspects.

Pahokee police charged Pino with carrying concealed firearms when they found two handguns and pair of scissors wrapped in a towel in the automobile.

When police checked with the National Crime Information Center, they discovered Pino was the subject of two outstanding felony warrants from Dade County for armed robbery and kidnapping.

Police are still seek- ing the other two suspects in the robbery.

"Pino's arrest could only have been made with the total support and assistance of the bound the three employees present and fled with an undeter- mined amount of cash receipts. One of the employees had freed himself at about 7:40 a.m. and stopped a Belle Glade Police Officer.

The three victims gave a description of the of the suspects and their vehicle to the police and the in- formation was relayed and it occupant was discovered to be Pina. Several items found in the car were later determined to have been taken in the robbery.

Glade Police Depart- ment Detective Jack R. Fulenwider traveled to Pahokee searched for the vehicle with several Pahokee of- ficers. At about 1:30 p.m., the officers located the vehicle and began to observe it. When the vehicle started to leave the area, it was stopped and it occupant was discovered to be Pina. Several items found in the car were later determined to have been taken in the robbery.

Rain damage loans available to county farmers

U.S. Representative Palm Beach last week announced that Palm Beach County and farmers who have suffered crop damage and losses due to recent excessive rainfall can now apply for emergency loan assistance from the federal government.

"Vegetable farmers in Palm Beach and Broward counties can now get immediate relief from their losses, which have resulted from unusually heavy rains during south Florida's rainy season, and begin preparation for the winter growing season," said Lewis. "I am very pleased that U.S. Secretary John Block re-evaluated the situation and saw that it was necessary to provide financial help for produce farmers in Palm Beach and Broward counties."

Block made the decision Wednesday after consultation with Lewis' office and a re-evaluation of the state's damage assessment report. Lewis said Palm Beach County and Broward County Kenneth Koush in vegetable producers West Palm Beach at should contact their 686-3255.

Did you vote? Why not try it?

Excuse us if we tend to have a case of sour grapes, but we can't help noticing that out of almost 4,600 voters in Belle Glade, only about 1,500 of you decided to vote in the municipal election this year.

Why? Were you unaware of the election? You don't read newspapers and listen to the radio and drive down local roads where the campaign signs have been standing for the past three weeks?

Or don't you care?

A year ago, we chastised Belle Glade residents for their failure to bring any opposition into the races. All the incumbents were returned without the public benefiting from an airing of their views and records.

Considering this year's results, maybe we expected much too much from Belle Glade residents.

Over two thirds of the registered voters in this town don't even care enough to vote, let alone run for office.

A regional newspaper ran an article Monday in which one local attorney stated the current system won't allow more than one black to get elected to the city commission.

It seems to us that any one group could easily put three commissioners of its choosing on the commission just by getting the vote out in one borough for two consecutive elections. If it could find a candidate.

The problem isn't in the system. The system works if it is used. The problem is in motivating those who complain about the system to use it to their advantage.

The elective process is no place for apathy, on the part of blacks, whites or any other group.

We salute those who did vote. Continue to do so. Bring an apathetic friend the next time. Voting is free and, in part because of it, so are we.

I've seen them before

After glimpsing a few of what's new in fall fashions the best word I can think of to describe them is "nostalgic." I haven't yet come upon the worst word but maybe it will show up in the next 1,000 or so on the subject.

A quick trip to the dictionary, however, reveals that nostalgic isn't the best word either. Nostalgic, it seems, means a desire to return to things past. That's certainly not what I had in mind. I thought nostalgia meant to weep, to laugh, and reminisce over bygone things. So, if there's a word for all that, that's the word I'm looking for. But a rerun of some of yesterday's forget-me-nots? Not on your grandmother's Sunday best corset cover!

But while I digress, the subject of this essay waits impatiently in the wings — the fall fashions. For pity's sake I'd leave them there but I'll reserve my pity for those who choose to wear them and for those who will remember wearing them long time ago as pinned-up, handed-down, hardtimes fashions.

The first far-from-fetching frock to catch my eye in the fall fashion line-up was a red bloused affair worn with black low-heeled pumps, black textured stockings and white ankle socks with lace cuffs. The last time I saw this outfit's first cousin was during the Great Depression. In those days, blousing a dress by pulling it over the belt was functional, not fashionable. It was a sign the dress belonged to your taller sister, therefore, hemming it was out of the question. Blousing it kept the shorter sister from tripping over the hemline. If the belt sagged around her hips instead of her waistline, then the belt obviously belonged to another sister, the fatter one.

Only child penury drove a girl to wear ankle socks — white or any other color — with black pumps and black chills (with or without penury) would have inspired her to put them on over black knit stockings.

Anyway, somebody missed those good old

AILSA DEWING

"And What Not"

times and has brought them back. The price quoted for this outfit was $475 (without the hosiery). Funny, that was about the annual income of the father whose short, tall, and plump daughters dressed like that in the '30s.

Keeping company in the fashion display with the gal in her big sisters' clothes was a lass wearing a long, long skirt that came almost to the top of her high-tops. High-tops were once serviceable boots worn by growing boys and men who climbed utility poles for a living. They laced up the front with rawhide stripes and the deluxe models had a pocket for a jackknife. The long, long skirt is appropriate, though, because any girl forced by reverse in the family fortune to wear high-tops would certainly have tried to hide them from view.

Mildly 1933 will apparently wear wool sox with her utilitarian footwear, but bunched over the tops. This would never have suited Miss Widdy. If she said it once, she said it ten times a day: "Wilbur, pull up your stockings." Wilbur didn't have the advantage of wearing a long skirt. He was showing skin between his knickers and his boot tops — an affront to Miss Widdy's sense of propriety.

Also in this season are Mother Hubbards, according to the fashion illustrations. Worn beltless. Girls who wore those fifty years ago were presumed to have lost their belts. That, at least, was the charitable assumption. Others less charitable would have said they'd lost something else and were "starting to show."

After giving it some thought, I believe I'll enjoy the fall fashions more than I expected to — looking at them, not wearing them. And, really, I will try to be charitable.

Crime unit a welcome addition

The street crime unit established by Belle Glade Police Chief D. Bill Mathis in April is a welcome addition to local enforcement efforts.

Since its inception, the two detectives assigned to the unit have helped the police arrest 127 people for their alleged participation in "street crimes."

The department also attributes the confiscation of over $100,000 in property, narcotics and lottery proceeds and the confiscation of six vehicles to the unit's investigation.

Some of that can be converted to cash. Others, such as drugs, can't. But if the stuff that can be converted to cash is legally confiscated by court action, and the department converts it, it can add the funds to the law enforcement trust fund recently set up by action of the city commission.

Those funds could be used then to fight crime even more effectively.

The street crime unit is more than worth its cost. It's just one example of the effectiveness of local law enforcement efforts.

Hit-and-run victim lauds area police

Editor:

I was severely injured by a hit-and-run driver May 6, 1983 outside the city limits of Belle Glade. I have delayed writing this letter of appreciation in order to insure that I could recall the name of each officer who helped me.

Every effort I have made to find out who helped me results in new names. Due to a skull fracture, I have little or no memory and must rely on personal inquiries. I cannot mention names I know for fear of omitting those of whom I have no current knowledge.

From all I can learn, officers who worked the accident scene both provided excellent temporary first aid care and, equally important, failed to provide well-meant but poor first aid care. I was verbally addressed with courtesy, competency and concern.

While I was being transported to Glades General Hospital by ambulance, a search for the rescuers was launched which included the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office helicopter. The helicopter carried fuel necessary to stop at Glades General Hospital, fly to Good Samaritan Hospital and make it back to Palm Beach International Airport. This reserve fuel was due to forethought of possible medical requirements.

During my excellent medical treatment at Glades General Hospital, I was supported by local police officers who located my wife, my physician, my pastor and my business staff and insured a smooth transition into and out of Glades General Hospital.

A Belle Glade police supervisor went to my house, removed my dog and supported him as a member of his family until my wife could have him picked up.

Police officers routinely checked my house for security during my long absence.

After excellent stabilization treatment at Glades General Hospital, I was transported by the Sheriff's Office helicopter to Good Samaritan Hospital. I have long wished for a ride in that copter, but, unfortunately, I cannot remember it.

During my hospitalization, my wife was kept informed of the progress of the investigation as appropriate. She was treated with courtesy over the telephone. If the belt sagged around her hips instead of her waistline, then the belt obviously belonged to another sister, the fatter one.

Only child penury drove a girl to wear ankle socks — white or any other color — with black pumps and black chills (with or without penury) would have inspired her to put them on over black knit stockings.

After my release from the hospital, I was briefed repeatedly on the progress of my case. A detective visited me at home and telephoned me for this purpose. It was a great help.

Once, a deputy stopped by my house just to check on my progress at 10 p.m. He stayed just long enough for a soda and was back on the road. I was extremely pleased that he felt free enough to stop by and see a recovering victim at what might have seemed too late an hour. It makes me feel closer to my law enforcement officers when something like this occurs. I sincerely appreciated his visit and concern. Police officers working during duty-hours and on personal time searched for the vehicle reported to have hit me.

Within about seven weeks of the accident, officers had solved my hit-and-run case of which there were no witnesses. To me, that was a remarkable and speedy resolution to a difficult case.

The Sheriff's Office, the Belle Glade Police Department and the Florida Highway Patrol clearly have a cooperative and effective relationship. I think together, they stopped every possible suspect car in Palm Beach County once or more, observed cars parked in private and put out feelers which had a successful effect.

I expect my friends to problem me in a support such as I faced in May of this year. I expect my police officers to do their job when a member of their community needs them.

Local police officers, my friends, acquaintances and officers whom I didn't know so far exceeded my expectations, I am unable to properly say "Thank you."

I expect my law enforcement officers to do their job. That's what we pay them for. I will almost always prelate it if I could tell them that my friends, patients, family and I know at least a part of the effort made in my case and appreciate it and them.

She's pleased

Editor:

I'm pleased. Pleased as punch. A need has been acknowledged and satisfied. Gove Elementary is a public school which has a day care program administered by Glades Central Community High School and headed by Gary Hagerman.

Such child care has been sorely needed for years. Lee Young, a former director of community education, recognized requests for such a program, and Gove, through Principal Ruth Irvin and Counselor Leroy Perry, the Georgia State Police Academy and the Belle Glade Police Academy.

I recognize some of the many problems faced and solved by local police staffs. I would greatly appreciate it if I could tell them that my friends, patients, family and I know at least a part of the effort made in my case and appreciate it and them.

complished with enthusiasm over two years ago. I need the service as do many other working parents. I want my child to attend public school, but I had to arrange for her before and after school hours. Gove's child care provides the desired supervision. Flowers to all concerned, especially the vivacious young ladies who give their attention of the spot. The price is minimal. I'm lucky. Thanks.

Housing authority seeks 200 additional units from HUD

PAHOKEE — The Pahokee Housing Authority is seeking federal funds to construct up to 200 units, but the authority's director says even if things go smoothly, the units couldn't be in use in less than two years.

According to PHA

Executive Director Randall J. Mills, the federal government has appropriated funds for an additional 5,000 units of public housing. The funds for those units are to be distributed through the Washington, D.C. offices of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, not through HUD's regional offices, he said.

Working with the Palm Beach County Department of Community Development, several housing authorities, including Pahokee, have teamed to seek a portion of the funds.

According to Mills, a lobbyist is working now with the understanding that he will be paid at a rate contingent upon the number of units he brings to Palm Beach County.

Mills showed the PHA Board of Commissioners a proposed development put together by the county. The proposal had about 100 units and Mills said he told the county that would be enough.

"I told them no less, no less than 175 units would be needed out here," said Mills, adding that he pointed out that the PHA had sacrificed its share of section eight funds in the past to other area authorities.

Section eight funds are provided to authorities so they may lease units from other property owners and subsidize the rent.

The county is seeking funds for 600 units through the program. "I still don't think we'll receive 600 units," said Mills. "I'll think we'll be very lucky to get 400."

He also said he thinks the area needs more public housing, not too many units area. Not the Pahokee. "Except for trailers, have come into the area."

Safety seminar is next Tuesday

"Supervising for Safety" will be the topic at the 17th annual Florida Sugar Cane League Safety Conference Tuesday, September 20 at the John B. Boy Auditorium in Clewiston.

The conference will start at 1:30 p.m. and feature William J. Becker, an extension safety specialist with the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences of the University of Florida.

Becker is supposed to direct his two-hour session toward improving safety attitudes and behaviors in the field and mill.

The conference will include the presentation of the annual safety award to the mill with the lowest frequency/severity index for employee accidents per tons of cane ground.

The yearly meeting is jointly sponsored by the Florida Sugar Cane League and Florida Bureau of Industrial Safety and Health. Members of the League's Safety Committee who plan the conference are Chairman Gene Dodgen of A. Duda and Sons, Inc., Chris Davidson of Oseola Farms Company, Fernando Iznaga of Gulf and Western Food Products Company, Joaquin Mendiburo of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, Earnesto Priode of Atlantic Sugar Association and Nick Smith of United States Sugar Corporation.

A VOTER CASTS her ballot just before the polls closed in Belle Glade's election Tuesday. Dan Bythwood ousted William Gear from the West Borough seat.

Sugar stabilization price announced by USDA

Under Secretary of Agriculture Daniel Amstutz this week announced an initial market stabilization price for sugar of 21.17 cents per pound for fiscal 1984, up less than one half cent from the previous level. The previous market stabilization price, in effect since Oct. 1, 1982, was 20.73 cents per pound. The market stabilization price, based on the domestic sugar price support level plus marketing factors, is used to determine the necessary level of import fees authorized under Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933. It represents the price at which producers would be more likely to sell sugar in the market-place than to forfeit it to USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation. The new market stabilization price reflects the price support loan rate of 17.50 cents per pound, transportation of 2.62 cents, interest costs of 0.85 cent and an incentive factor of 0.2 cent per pound to encourage producers to sell in the market.

Currently, there is no import fee on raw sugar and a 1-cent fee for refined sugar. New fees, which will become applicable on Oct. 1, will be announced by Sept. 25, based on the market stabilization price announced today Amstutz said.

Amstutz reaffirmed the administration's intention to revert to a duty and fee-based system for sugar imports as soon as market conditions permit. He said current and projected conditions in the world market indicate a need for continuation of import quotas, and that there will be quarterly reviews of market conditions and the market stabilization price.

Sugar price supports determined

Secretary of Agriculture John Block has determined that the price of the 1983 crop of domestically grown sugarcane will be supported through a non-recourse loan program at the national average loan rate of 17.5 cents per pound for raw cane sugar. This price support level is the minimum statutory level prescribed by the Agricultural Act of 1949.

Block also has determined that the price of the 1983 crop of domestically grown sugar beets will be supported under the loan program at a national average loan rate of 20.86 cents per pound for refined beet sugar.

Other terms and conditions of the program will be announced later in the Federal Register.

Lunch precedes club's first meeting of year

Belle Glade Garden Club's first meeting of the year was preceded by a potluck luncheon Thursday, Sept. 8, with Alene McAllister and Alice Nelms as hostesses.

The meeting was in the home of Mrs. Nelms, NW 13th Street, Belle Glade. President Iris Hodges conducted the meeting, assisted by vice-president Wilma Warren who maintains active membership in Belle Glade's 53-year-old club, despite having moved to Starke, Florida. Other officers are Mary McLendon, a charter member, recording secretary; Alice Nelms, treasurer, and Mrs. Zwick, assistant treasurer.

The president affirmed that "the Club will abide by all the rules of the state organization and do garden club work." She stressed the importance of regular attendance at both local and district meetings. A work day at the bridge site was discussed along with other "eye sore" spots. Verda Mathewson, club delegate was asked for a report on the breakfast meeting of Belle Glade Beautification Committee held Sept. 1 at the Country Club. The improvements being made citywide were noted. Mrs. Hodges announced that the first District Ten meeting will be held October 18 in Vero Beach and urged all who can to attend. The president also announced that Belle Glade's three garden clubs will meet jointly in the City Hall auditorium October 15, at 10 a.m. At noon Belle Glade Garden Club members will go to the home of Bernice Farmer for their "bring bag" (bring your own) lunch and regular meeting. Secretary and treasurer's reports were given and dues were collected.

Ballot voting on the free standing Ixora table arrangements contest gave first place to Iris Hodges, second, Dorothy Sharp and third to Alice Nelms. At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Zwick entertained the group with an interesting report and pictures of the 21-day trip she and Virginia Buss made to China and Japan this summer.

Raiders beat rival Blue Devils 20-6 to claim trophy

PAHOKEE - The Bill Young trophy.

It signifies nothing more than who won the latest in a series of games between two rivals. But for that reason and no other, Glades Central and Pahokee football teams want it. For the next year, it will reside in Glades Central Community High School, thanks to the efforts of a defense that held the Blue Devils to just six points and an offense that scored three touchdowns and two extra points.

The Raiders carried the trophy to Belle Glade for the first time since 1979 when they beat the Blue Devils 20-6 Friday evening.

The Raider defense turned back the Blue Devil offense all night, intercepting the first Devil pass in the first quarter.

The Raiders drove the ball to Pahokee's 25 yard line in three plays. A field goal attempt went wide right and the score remained 0-0. Both defenses contained their opponents through the first 18 minutes of play.

Six minutes into the second quarter, Raider Quarterback Eric Smith threw a 10 yard pass to John Ford for a TD. After the extra-point attempt passed between the uprights, the Raiders had a 7-0 lead.

That lead held through the rest of the half and the Raiders, who received to start off the second half, extended the lead in the third period.

In their first possession, the Raiders marched down field and Smith connected with Willie Sneed for a 22-yard touchdown pass.

The extra-point made it 14-0.

Pahokee's only offensive drive of the third was fumbled away with three minutes left on the 25 yard line. They had just moved the ball 35 yards in nine plays.

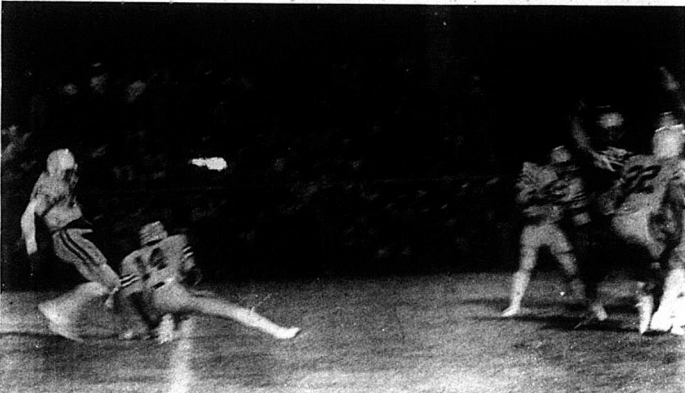

In the fourth, the teams exchanged punts before the Raiders fumbled into the arms of a waiting Blue Devil who scooped up the ball and returned it downfield for Pahokee's only six points of the game.

Then, Glades Central took advantage of a Blue Devil defense that was tiring after three quarters of hard play.

It marched downfield in 13 plays, picking up three first downs, before sweeping around the right end to score a third touchdown.

This week, Glades Central hosts North Shore in its first home game and the Blue Devils travel to Boca Raton.

THE RAIDERS KICK-OFF after scoring their second touchdown of the evening

RAIDER QUARTERBACK KENNETH HAMMOND takes a snap in the final minutes of the Glades Central-Pahokee football game last Friday. The game was the season opener for both teams.

Lewis aid slates hours

US Representative Tom Lewis (R-12th District of Florida) announced last week that his aide, Douglas Callaway, will hold office hours in Belle Glade on Tuesday, September 13, 1983.

Individuals wishing to meet with the congressman's aide can do so between the hours of 9-10 a.m. at the Belle Glade City Hall, 110 S.W. Avenue E. At 9:30 a.m., on behalf of Congressman Lewis, Callaway will be presenting to Kenneth L. Bowers, supervisor of the Florida Department of Transportation's Belle Glade Maintenance Subyard, a Congressional Award for Heroism. This honor is being bestowed upon Bowers for his heroic actions of February 17, when he saved the lives of two young boys after their three-wheel vehicle plunged into a canal alongside Flaghole Road near Clewiston.

Jacks: CDS wasn't prepared

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade Christian Crusaders traveled to Westminster Academy Saturday and lost 7-0.

And Coach James Jacks didn't like what he saw.

"What he saw was the loss of 106 yards because of 15 penalties and an offense that gained only 65 yards while scoring no points.

The defense managed to hold the opponents to just one touchdown, but that was enough to give Westminster the victory.

"I think they looked extremely bad compared to what they could have," said Jacks of the Crusaders. "They just weren't prepared mentally to play football. We do hope we have that straightened out. They have the capabilities to play. We know the boys realize they weren't prepared to play mentally."

The defense held Westminster to a passing attack of only 38 yards and a ground attack of 76.

While Westminster completed two of six passes, the Crusaders failed all seven times they went to the air.

Henry Ruiz led the team with 57 yards in eight carries, but it was James Barnwell who gave the Crusaders their only bright spot on the day. He punted six times for an average of 38.5 yards.

Barnwell also made five tackles and two assists. That was second behind Rodney Brown who made six tackles and two assists.

David Chamblee also made five tackles and two assists. Interceptions by Crusaders Mirto Vigosa in the first and Henry Ruiz in the third were never capitalized on and three offensive drives were squelched by penalties.

"We had three excellent drives, but each one was basically nullified by a penalty," said Athletic Director David Dailey. "I really was disappointed in them."

The Crusaders play today in Boca Raton.

Class A champs win opening game 49-0

BELLE GLADE - It looks like the defending class A high school state champions are prepared to defend their title like champions.

The Glades Day Gators traveled to Naples St. John Neuman Saturday and opened up their season with a 49-0 victory.

"It was a shutout so obviously we played a good defensive game," said Gator Coach Byron Walker. "You have to be pleased with an opener."

The Gators' 49 points is a record for Glades Day openers, said Walker.

Philip Echols and Brian Lohmann each scored two touchdowns to lead the Gators' offensive attack, while Robbie Carter, who carried the team's final touchdown over from the one yard line, led the team with 108 yards in 20 carries.

Echols put the Gators on the scoreboard first with a five yard run in the first quarter.

He scored his second TD before the period ended when he carried the ball 25 yards into the endzone.

While the first period belonged to Echols, the second it was all Lohmann. Lohmann made the score 20-0 when he scored from 23 yards out.

He also carried the ball in from the one before the half ended.

Mike Schlechter, who was seven-for-seven in extra-point attempts Saturday, scored eight points in the third period.

He ran the ball in from 41 yards out for a TD, then added the extra-point. He also added the extra-point to the 10-yard touchdown scored by Swartz.

Carter scored his touchdown in the last period.

Neumann moved the ball for 27 total yards offensively, but lost 13 rushing while Gators Jose Perez and Roland Sweet picked up nine tackles each.

Walker, who had expressed concern over the Gator defense before the season began, wasn't ready to give the 1983 defense his seal of approval after the victory.

"Before I can pass judgement on our defense we're gonna have to see them against an adequate offense," he said.

He thinks he may have the chance this weekend when the Gators play Bishop Verot.

"We'll know a lot about our defense after Friday," said Walker. "We have an idea we have a good offensive team. We have an idea we have a pretty strong defensive team. After Friday, we'll know."

The kicking game seems to be in the hands, or shoes, of Schlechter, but Walker said he was concerned with the offense's inability to capitalize on several turnovers.

"I think we got a little bit lazy on offense," said Walker.

He added that the kick-off team, the only special team he had an opportunity to see in the game, did an "excellent job."

Last year, the Gators met Bishop Verot in the second game of the season and, after forcing the game into overtime, came home with a victory.

"We feel they're a much better football team," said Walker, pointing out that the Bishop Verot defense from a year ago has returned. "We're not afraid of them, we just have a very big degree of respect."

The game, which starts at 8 p.m. Friday on Gator Field, will be the first in a series of three consecutive games against 2A schools.

The Gators will play five 2A schools this year.

Last year, the Gators opened their season with four consecutive 2A schools and came away with a 2-2 record, including one victory over Bishop Verot.

Walker said last's strategy of using the 2A schools as character and talent builders hasn't changed.

"Yeah, anytime you play a 2A team, it's a character builder," he said. "They can be either characters or breakers. We wanna win them real badly and we think we can win them."

Local courts—Continued—from page 1

constitution. Any changes it supports will have to be placed on the ballot in 1984.

Mathis thinks one of those changes should be a return to a local court system to handle municipal code violations.

The state dropped municipal courts several years ago.

"There may have been some problems with municipal courts across the state, but Belle Glade wasn't one of them," said Mathis. "Every time we talk about this matter, I get angry at the thought of what we lost."

He said a municipal court could handle violations of municipal codes that are dropped by the state attorney's office because of time.

"Right now, if every person charged with a crime in the state were to demand a speedy trial, 95 percent of them would be let go," said Mathis.

The state attorney frequently decides not to prosecute municipal code violations because of the large number of cases facing the office, according to Mathis. Combined with the absence of a municipal court, that gives the city no method to address municipal problems.

City Attorney John E. Baker said he agrees the city needs some way to address local problems, but he added he isn't sure the magistrate system is the solution.

The commissioners approved a motion by Commissioner Claude A. Tindall to pass a resolution supporting Mathis.

In other business the commission:

- Presented laminated copies of resolutions commending the championships of several high school sports teams.

The Glades Central Community High School girls track team was given a plaque for its class 3A championship in 1982.

The boys and girls track teams from the school were presented a plaque for their 1983 championships.

Glades Day School was presented two plaques, one each for their class A state football championships of 1980 and 1982.

Decided to fund the hiring of two Diversified Cooperative Training Program students from West Technical Institute.

The cost of the two part-time employees will be $5,226.

"I think it's an excellent idea," said Mayor Thomas L. Altman. "Not only does the city as a business benefit from this, the students also benefit from it."

Bike-a-thon Saturday

The Christian Day School Crusader Choir bike-a-thon will be Saturday, Sept. 17. This year the choir is composed of 81 students.

The Crusader Choir plans to give four concerts throughout the year for the community and will be performing in Kentucky on tour this November.

Anyone interested in sponsoring a choir member in the bike-a-thon, please contact the school at 996-5598. All donations go to the music department.
